St. Louis, MO—

Jim Granger and Matt Levenson announce partnership—GNH Services, Inc.

On January 1, 2009, Jim Granger, President, promoted Matt Levenson to the newly created position of Executive Vice President. In recognition of their newly formed partnership, Granger Contracting Company, Inc. and N-STORE Services, LLC are now wholly owned subsidiaries of their holding company, GNH Services, Inc.

The creation of GNH Services, Inc., along with the partnership of Jim and Matt, better enables Granger and N-STORE to move forward as a cohesive unit and brings together the collective talents of both companies office teams to provide customers with an even higher quality of service. Every office employee will now support both subsidiaries, allowing for the best practices of each company to come together as one strong operating unit. The field teams of Granger and N-STORE that our clients have come to know and trust will continue to operate independently so that the expertise that has been established over the years will continue to be maximized. Our customers will now have the benefit of an expanded office support staff as well as the continued proficiency of the individual Granger and N-STORE field teams—all without any change in their interactions with the companies.

As Jim Granger and Matt Levenson are now official partners in GNH Services, Inc., we look forward to their leadership and the opportunity to support our customers through 2009 and beyond.
